About the Oxford OHT

DISCOVER THE OXFORD PRIMARY CARE NETWORK

What is the Primary Care Network (PCN)?

The PCN is a community of professionals united in their mission to enhance patient care and support those who deliver it.

The PCN serves to:

1

Strengthen Your Voice: Ensuring primary care has a unified presence in shaping local healthcare plans and decisions.

2

Enhance Your Practice: Providing clinical tools and resources to streamline your day-to-day clinical and administrative responsibilities.

3

Foster Connection: Building meaningful relationships with peers across sectors to address shared challenges and innovate together.

WHY THE OXFORD PCN IS YOUR ADVANTAGE

Being part of the Oxford Primary Care Network gives you direct access to valuable resources, savings, and opportunities to shape the future of primary care in your community.

Immediate Benefits:

Exclusive Discounts on Technology: Save 20% on AI Scribe technology and gain access to online appointment booking software.

Cost Savings on Supplies: Participate in the Mohawk Medbuy OHT Connect Program and save up to 14% on clinical and office supplies.

Earn Mainpro+ Credits: Gain over 6 Mainpro+ credits annually by engaging in PCN-organized events and meetings.

Stay Informed: Receive timely clinical updates and educational opportunities straight to your inbox.

WHY THE OXFORD PCN IS YOUR ADVANTAGE

Additional Benefits:

Influence Workforce Planning: Help shape strategies to address health human resource challenges.

Guide the Future of Team-Based Care: Contribute to discussions on strengthening primary care collaboration.

Expand Your Leadership Skills: If interested, access leadership training and opportunities to take on key roles.

Be Heard at the Decision-Making Table: Ensure your voice is represented at the Oxford Ontario Health Team (OHT) through primary care representatives advocating on your behalf.

Take advantage of the opportunity to enhance your practice and positively impact your community!

“Oxford PCN is a valuable way for me to meet my colleagues in the context of my busy office day. It helps me stay in touch with resources and activities in my area that affect me, my team, and my patients.”

- Dr. Jennifer Jeffries, Family Physician

YES, YOU'RE A MEMBER!

The primary care community consists of a variety of payment models and ways of accessing team-based care. The Oxford Primary Care Network prioritizes collaboration across these models, recognizing the collective strength it brings. - Pharmacists
- RNs and RPNs
- Community Paramedics
- Community Pediatricians
- Emergency Room Physicians
- Specialists
- Primary care organizations (e.g., Community Health Centre, Family Health Teams, and Nurse Practitioner-Led Clinics)

We understand that your schedule is busy—join in when you can and enjoy the benefits!

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

1 What's expected of me?

There are no specific expectations! You can engage in any way that suits you, whether it's simply staying informed or actively participating.

2 What's the time commitment?

That's entirely up to you. You can choose to receive our monthly newsletter to stay updated on primary care developments in Oxford County, or, if interested, you can join a working group addressing the key challenges identified by you. Your level of participation is completely flexible.

3 How can the PCN help with day-to-day challenges?

The PCN offers several ways to support you:

- Share important clinical updates and primary care news through our monthly newsletter.
- Alert you to local, urgent matters requiring immediate attention, action, and response.
- Get your input on challenges like administrative burden that helps us advocate for effective solutions.
- Provide educational opportunities based on topics that matter to you.
- Our monthly meetings help identify common issues and foster collaboration to find practical solutions.
- You can take an active role by joining a working group or leading a project aimed at addressing shared challenges.

A MESSAGE FROM DR. SHAMEENA TAMACHI, OXFORD OHT PRIMARY CARE PHYSICIAN LEAD

“The passionate dedication of our partners, providers, staff, and community is transforming healthcare in Oxford. By working together, we are overcoming the unique challenges faced by rural and historically under-resourced regions. The Oxford OHT is proving that by taking a collaborative approach, we can unlock the potential to achieve outcomes that surpass the capabilities of individual organizations, creating a more responsive, efficient, and patient-centered healthcare system.”

Dr. Tamachi

WHAT PRIMARY CARE PROVIDERS ARE SAYING:

"I am pleased to be involved with the Oxford Primary Care Network. It provides the opportunity to strengthen interprofessional collaboration while working on local solutions to challenges we all face daily in primary care. The network serves as both a formal and informal resource in the ever-changing healthcare industry, with tangible benefits to clinicians and administrators. The Leadership Team of the PCN are all knowledgeable, hardworking, and a pleasure to work with. I have been extremely satisfied with my participation in the Oxford Primary Care Network."

- A.J. Wells, Director of Medical Services

"Staying in touch with Oxford PCN updates is crucial to avoid missing out on practice-changing information on local CME events, community programming (for patients), and even discounts on items like AI Scribe or certain CME/conferencing events. We all get inundated with emails, but it's worth a quick skim of the PCN newsletters to ensure you're kept in the loop."

- Dr. Rachel Orchard, Family Physician

"Working as a provider at the CHC, it is so important that we are aware of what options our patients and community members have for health education and resources to support them. Having access to the Oxford Primary Care Network has been so helpful as all this info is summarized in one newsletter. It also helps us as providers to know where our focus should be in creating programs to avoid duplicating services. We have also been able to share our services and broaden the network that receives information about the programs we offer at the CHC. The newsletter is also a great way to get succinct and pertinent updates on practice changes and health issues affecting our community."

- Natalie Mendola, Nurse Practitioner

ABOUT US

The Oxford Ontario Health Team (OHT) was officially formed in 2020 as a new way to organize and deliver health and social services. Our aim is to provide community members with better connected and more convenient care, closer to home. We are a collaborative of over 20 local healthcare providers and organizations including primary care, hospitals, home and community care, mental health and addictions services, long term care, and connections to social services and public health.

WORKING TOGETHER TO BUILD A STRONGER, HEALTHIER COMMUNITY FOR ALL.
